How John R. Rhea is making speeches over the state in opposition to the new constitution.

Gov. Barbour has announced that he will not make the race for Governor on the People's party ticket.

This time will come when Kentuckians should be asked if they will accept the "Purchase" instead of the "Blue Grass."

The Democrats of Barren county have nominated a farmer for the Legislature, and the Alliance has put up a lawyer to beat him. What has Capt. George Mercer to say to this.

Geo. Maner, Dr. Harrod's manager, is mad, very mad. Indeed, if he could find the man that "kissed" him, Webster, there might be little or no race. Keep cool, Brother Geo., it is too hot to get mad and life is too short.

The citizens of Fordville said to be in high spirits over the discovery of another large coal mine in that vicinity. The new mine is convenient to the railroad, and it is said will furnish enough coal to supply the whole county.

How A. T. Woot, the Republican candidate for Governor, is exhorting pretty exclusively in his speeches on the Dick Tate steel. That matter is about settled. The State will probably get her money, and this old gag will not secure a single vote for the Republican ticket.

How John Young Brown opened the campaign at Dixon, Ky., last week. A big crowd gathered to hear him, and the resolutions are that the Democrats are falling in line all over the state, and that the party was never in better trim for rolling up a big majority and sweeping every thing before it. Hon. A. T. Woot, the Republican nominee for the same office, is canvassing the state but he is not arousing much enthusiasm.

When Mr. Woot, the Republican nominee for Governor, reached Henderson last week he was met by Hon. John Young Brown, the Democratic nominee for Governor, and taken to the latter's home where he remained as his guest. If Capt. George Mercer sees this he will exclaim for ever that both of the old parties are working together, when in fact the action of Mr. Brown was but a bit of courtesy that was due his honor opponent.

When McKinley, of McKinley tariff bill fame, visited was nominally by the Republicans, for Governor of Ohio. It is possible he may be elected, as Ohio is somewhat of a manufacturing center, and McKinley is a capitalist for those situations and a capitalist against the laboring class of people in the country. But of late years the Republicans have not had things their own way in Ohio by large vote. The Democrats have steadily gained ground there and several times elected a Governor.

This Cleveland brick manufacturing company secured its first triumph last week in a contract to furnish 300,000 paving brick to the city of Louisville. There were a number of other strong brick manufacturing establishments competing for the same job, but the Cleveland works got in the lowest bid. Her brick are first class and as good as can be found in the country. When this town goes for a thing it is generally there to stay, and the one that heads her off will know when she does it.

His friends of the new Constitution haven't a walk-over in this county by a large majority; although they claim that they will be easy winners. So far as we have been able to get news of it, we have made it a point to ask all the leading men in the different sections where we have been, it is a fact that with the exception of Henderson, a majority both of Democrats and Republicans are against it. The sentiment in this direction is growing too as the matter is being acquainted with its workings.

It is given out that Mr. Harrison will meet with his opposition from the Republican party in his own state, Indiana, for the Presidential nomination next year. A delegation of prominent Republicans met at Indianapolis ten days ago and declared a decided preference for Blaine as the Republican standard bearer for President in '02. But Blaine is sick and it is said will not be of much more service in public life. The opposition to Mr. Harrison comes from two sources, self appointed Republicans who have not heretofore gotten what they asked for of the Administration.

Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, one of Indiana's most beloved statesmen and Democrats, died at his home in Indianapolis last Sunday night. He passed peacefully away being fully conscious up to the very last. Just before he died he called his family about him, and calmly, as if the occasion were one of the most ordinary kind, gave directions for his funeral, the disposition of some personal affairs and in the presence of all said, he wished to give testimony to his faith in God's saving grace. He then grasped each by the hand, bade them good-bye saying that he could see them no more, and in a short time passed off. Thus ended the life of a great and good man. He was 72 years old.

This officers of the law are getting after the White Caps, who have been operating in this county near Carter, and the Forks of Rough. There would seem to be no occasion for the depredation of such an unwholesome element as compose the White Caps in this county, and the sooner their operations are put an end to the better. Down at Carter several parties have been arrested, charged with being members of the gang, but it is not at all probable that the proof against them will be sufficient to convict. Those who suppose that this class of men are generally to be allowed to follow their own way, though. It is well enough for the officers of the law to keep a close look out, and bring the offenders to justice.

The chapter on "Revenue and Taxation" in the new constitution. (Sections 175-189) provides that all property assessed for taxation shall be assessed at its fair cash value, estimated at the price it would bring at a fair voluntary sale. This is a good and applies to all property in the State whether owned by national, state or local corporations. It also provides that all taxes shall be uniform upon all property subject to taxation. This is also good. But it is known that section 189 of the same chapter, the last section in the chapter, says, "Nothing in this constitution contained shall be construed so as to prevent the General Assembly from providing by law how national and railroad property shall be assessed and taxes thereon shall be collected."

How the railroads are above constitutional restrictions, and are handed over to the tender mercies of coming legislatures, and a wide opening left for the reduction of facilities of the lobby.

This vote on the new Constitution. Will some one please inform us how many votes it will take to ratify or reject the new constitution? Is it the mind of the convention that a majority of the voters, or of the whole number of voters in the state, or two thirds or three fifths, or all, are necessary to reject the instrument. They have not said so in the ordinance submitting their work to the people. The ordinance provides that a vote shall be taken and certified, but it is silent as to what will satisfy the convention as to whether it is rejected. That question is left open in a most unanimous fashion. Section 177. The new constitution provides that taxes shall be uniform upon all property subject to taxation within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. Then, we suppose, all a Kentucky capitalist has to do to prevent "uniform" taxation on his bonds, stocks, and money is to keep them over the river in some vault in Evansville, New Albany or Cincinnati outside of the "territorial limits of the authority levying the tax."

Mr. R. L. Hardaway left Saturday for Louisville, where he has accepted a position with Brooks & Gregory, his many friends here wish him success.

Last Thursday afternoon our quiet little town was greatly excited by the startling report that Hardy Northern, a boy of some fifteen years, had shot and killed himself while out frogging at a pond on the farm of Mr. T. J. Jolly near here.

He and Arthur Walker were together; it seems that Hardy hit his own head with his foot and it discharged the ball entering his heart, he walked on some fifteen or twenty steps, in the direction of Mr. Jolly's house, when he said he was sick and could go no farther, and falling down, died before he could get help; which he did. Mr. Jolly reached him in about ten minutes after the gun was fired, but he was then beyond the reach of mortal aid. This is a real reminder of the certainty of death, and that we know not when, how, or to whom the Death Angel will call next.

Hardy Northern was an orphan, but was the main stay of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Northern, with whom he lived. He was much loved and respected by his playmates, and his community mourns with his family his loss.

While our friend, the Credit man over at Hampton, has let his stock run down and almost suspended business for the small season the Cash is stocking up with new and seasonable goods, determined to keep the business booming.

Sub-Treasures and Tariff Taxation.

The difference between the sub-treasury scheme and the McKinley bill is not great. Under the sub-treasury scheme there wouldn't be money enough to go round, nor to pay when the notes mature, and the result would be the United States would have a mortgage on every farm and hundred of wheat to the ruin of the public.

Under the McKinley bill there isn't money enough to satisfy the tribute levied on the public for the modest classes, and the mortgage is by the whole people to them.

Under either system there is loss to people. Both are vicious and neither should be tolerated.—Covington Commonwealth.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and Incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest Trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at G. W. Short's Drugstore.

Bridal Etiquette.
There are many little things about weddings that people inquire about, says the Ladies' Home Journal. The bride writes a personal note of thanks for every gift received, whether it be a great one or a little one, and if she cannot do this before the ceremony, she does it after the bridal trip.

In the church the bridegroom's family and friends sit at the right of the altar, being on the bridegroom's right hand, while those of the bride are placed on the left, at the bride's left. The bridegroom does not pay for anything connected with the wedding unless he should choose to send bouquets to the bridesmaids, and, of course, to the bride, and presents and bouquets to his best man and the ushers.

A widow removes her first wedding ring at her second marriage, and does not assume it again. The engagement ring is taken from the third finger of the left hand and worn afterward as a guard to the wedding ring. It is not considered good taste to cut the finger out of the glove for assuming the ring.

A Child Killed.

Another child killed by the use of opiate given in the form of soothing syrup, opiate makers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Dr. Acker's Baby Soother. He Stood Up.

Thurs., June 19th.—At a protracted meeting the other day the minister preached a special sermon to the young men, commenting at some length on the character of George Washington, and requested any one present who thought himself Washington's equal to stand up. The young man arose. The pastor asked him upon what he based his claim. "Sir," said the young man. "I am railroad agent at Hilton station.—Atlanta Constitution.

Buy the Monarch Shirt.

The Alliance is at work in Davison county and the Messenger sizes up the situation correctly in these words: "The ultimate result of all the third party movements that have been started in Kentucky since the war has been a large accession to the Republican party, and it is clearly to be seen that the present effort to drive rapidly in that direction, its advocates are working themselves into such a fury that they will be ashamed to apply for re-admission to the party of their birth, and there will be nowhere else for them to go except to the Republican party. The Democratic party has a pride in keeping every member possible within it, but beyond that the defection is not going to hurt it. Every man who wants to go, and still the party will have a majority sufficient for all needs."

What Our Country Needs.

Just at this time our country needs a religion that will make a man pay his debts. Shouting don't settle old accounts with God or man. We want to bounce right on a fellow and put him out of the church if he goes to a ball or theatre, but never say a word to the fellow scamp who never pays his debts. Preachers and people who never pay their debts are doing the church more harm than dancers or drunkards, for there are more in the church. Readers, we are getting pretty close to you. Then lay down and go and pay up, and you can read on at ease. And don't stop paying because the 'statute of limitation, excuses the open account which you make for bread and meat. You must pay in cash, or God will make you pay it in fire and brimstone. God knows no such excuse as 'homestead exemption.' When you raise that excuse to keep from paying your debts you can stop singing 'When I can read my title clear.' You've got none up there.—Methodist Advocate.

Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers never gripe or cause nausea. Mild but sure, assist rather than force. Best little pill for sick headache, chronic constipation, dyspepsia. Sold by G. W. Short.

A CITY LUXURY.

Just as the city looks to the country for most of the luxuries used on its tables, so the country must turn to the city for those conveniences which are justly termed luxuries for the hard-working housewife. City housekeepers have learned to realize that to save time is to lengthen life.

SAPOLIO!

is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. IF YOUR STOREKEEPER DOES NOT KEEP IT YOU SHOULD INSIST UPON HIS DOING SO, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well-supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.
